Gone are the days when parents used to wait till their kids were grown up to travel. Nowadays, little babies travel everywhere, exploring the great big world with their inquisitive eyes. Of course, modern conveniences have definitely made life easier for Mom and Dad!! But in spite of everything, one point of worry for parents is what to feed their children while travelling.

With all the scare about packaged food and unhygienic food preparation in restaurants, parents would rather carry their own food with them. Needless to say, this requires quite a bit of planning, but we’re here to help!!

Here is a list of convenient and healthy travel foods for babies and toddlers.

Hema
Though I have posted many instant porridge powder recipes for babies, this Instant Khichdi or the instant homemade rice cereal rice recipe was one that has been pending for a long time. We already have a homemade brown rice baby cereal recipe, but while that one needs cooking, this is a no cook recipe. It doesn’t get easier than this!

When you take cooking out of the equation, image the possibilities that this recipe opens up!! Forget about store bought cereals filled with preservatives, you have your very own instant cereal mix here! And when you’re travelling, all you need is hot water, and your baby’s meal is ready!

Instant Khichdi Mix Recipe/Instant Homemade Rice Cereal Recipe

Ingredients

- Rice – 40 g
- Moong dal – 20 g
- Pepper – 4 or 5 (can be adjusted according to taste or skipped)
- Cumin/Jeera – 1/4 teaspoon
• Asafoetida – a pinch (optional)

Method

1. The rice and moong dal can be washed and dried in sun or used directly too.

2. Dry roast the rice in kadai, till you get a shiny, puffed up appearance as shown here:

3. Dry roast dal, pepper, jeera, asfoetida (if adding)
4. Cool and grind to a powder. Sieve the coarse particles to get a fine powder.

7. Store in an airtight box in a cool and dry place.

How to make Instant Khichdi for Babies?
1. Take about 4 tablespoons of mix. You can increase the quantity if you like.

2. Add 100 ml of boiled hot water to get a thick consistency and close the bowl with a lid for 5 minutes.

3. Stir through the mixture after 5 minutes and add some ghee for taste.
You're probably feeding your baby ragi porridge every day and wondering why he's turning up his nose at it. You forget that babies are little people too, and they get bored!! So unless you want a lifetime of 'nose-turning', let your munchkin get used to different tastes. If you're wondering if it's possible to have a lot of variety for something like porridge, let's assure you, it is!!

One of our most popular posts is the one on 15 Instant porridge recipes and you can use this as a starting point when creating a meal plan for your baby. Today's recipe is the latest addition to our porridge series, and this time we have answered many Moms' requests for a dalia recipe. The result - Instant Elaichi Wheat Dalia Porridge Powder!

Please note that this porridge is a little lumpy, so it is better suited to babies above 8 months of age.

Instant Elaichi Wheat Dalia Porridge Powder

Ingredients

- Wheat dalia - 40 g
- Roasted Fried Gram - 20 g
- Elaichi/Cardamom - 2 to 3 pods

Method

1. Dry roast the ingredients separately.

2. Grind all the roasted ingredients together, to a powder.

3. Store in an airtight box. It will last for 1 month under clean and dry storage conditions.

No time to prepare this powder at home? Don't worry, we prepare it hygienically and ship it to your doorstep

To make Instant Elaichi Wheat Dalia Porridge for Babies:

1. Take approximately 4 tbsp of the porridge powder mix in a heat proof bowl.

2. Add 100 ml of hot boiled water and stir well to get a thick consistency.
3. Add a teaspoon of oil or ghee to increase the energy content.

When cool, feed the porridge to your baby with a spoon. This instant porridge can also be fed to the child after reconstituting with dal, water, gravy, milk etc. Take up the nutritional quotient by adding mashed fruit like banana, chikoo, papaya or mango. See, there are so many ways to make a plain old porridge interesting!!

Bajra or Pearl Millet is a grain that is common in several parts of India, particularly the west. However, today, it is quite the forgotten grain as people consume mostly rice and wheat, even if they opt for unprocessed versions. The fact is that it is extremely healthy, even for babies! It's a good source of fiber and rich in vitamins and minerals.

Other Names for Pearl Millet

1. Kambu in Tamil

Today, we have the recipe for a Bajra/Kambu Powder Mix for babies. It can be given after 8 months and is the perfect travel food.

Bajra/Kambu Powder Mix for Babies

Ingredients:

- 50 g Bajra/Pearl Millet
- 20 g Moong dal
- 10 g Til/Sesame seeds (optional)

Method:

1. Clean and de-husk the millets.
2. Roast the millet, moong dal and til seeds separately.
3. Once cool, grind each ingredient separately. Finally, mix all the powders together.

4. Store the powder mix in a clean, dry and airtight container.
To make the cereal for your baby, put a tablespoon of the powder mix in a bowl and add hot water. Stir well and serve.

So here comes the much awaited NO COOK Recipes. Many readers were emailing to ask to post any easy to make no cook recipe that is ideal to feed the baby during travelling. As I was exploring many options, one of the readers, Nidhi Sinha suggested this Makhana Porridge or Makhana Kheer or Lotus Seeds porridge recipe and it came out great and very easy to make too.

Lotus seeds are very healthy and nutritious for the babies and this powder is very easy to carry during travel and feed the baby. Please don't forget to follow the 3 Day Rule before introducing any new foods for the baby.

How to make Makhana Porridge/Makhana Kheer for babies?

Ingredients
- 100 gms of Makhana
- 1 teaspoon of jaggery (for sweet version - makhana kheer for babies above 1 year)
- 1/2 teaspoon of jeera (for savoury version)

Method

1. Makhana seeds can be bought in any grocery store, make sure there is no added ingredients.
2. Cut them into half to check for worms

3. Dry roast them to a golden brown.
4. Powder the roasted seeds.

5. Sieve it to a fine powder.

6. Store them in an airtight container.

7. When needed, to a 2 tablespoon of powder add 30 ml of warm water, mix without lumps and serve.

8. For older babies, a pinch of salt and jeera powder can be added to enhance the taste.
Update: It seems that many babies didn't like the bland taste, as per my Facebook page fans, so here is a solution. For the savory version, add a pinch of jeera or ajwain powder. For the sweet version, add fruit purees for babies under one year and a spoon of jaggery syrup for toddlers.

How can you give your baby different types of Makhana Porridges?

Makhana can be bland for babies, you can try out these yummy combinations listed below

1. Banana Makhana Cereal
2. Organic Makhana Wheat Dalia Porridge Mix
3. Organic Makhana Kheer

Nutritional benefits of Makhana/ Lotus seeds for Babies

100 gms yield about 350 calories of energy.

1 ounce of lotus seeds has approximately 5 gms of proteins.

They are very good source of protein, magnesium, potassium and phosphorous.
